

Magazine CURRENTS #3 The magazine of a port in motion

The third issue of the prospective magazine CURRENTS published by HAROPA PORT is dedicated to the circular economy. Faced with the challenges of ecological transition, this new more sustainable business model is also a source of development opportunities.

Industrial port areas are particularly concerned: as entry and exit points for flows of raw materials and energy, their industrial fabric makes them ideal locations for developing virtuous loops. On the Seine axis, it is by working together that innovative solutions can be developed to transform, reinvent and deploy together.
